

Vacancy: Assistant F&B Manager

Location: Golfounge Amsterdam

Are you hospitable, enthusiastic and looking for a dynamic job in the hospitality industry? Then this position might be something for you! Golfounge Amsterdam, the place where golf, fun and entertainment come together, is looking for an assistant F&B Manager to strengthen our team.

What will you do as an assistant F&B Manager?

You are the point of contact for our guests and the team. You ensure that everything runs smoothly, think along about how we can improve our service and offer support in the organization of events and group outings.

Here are the main responsibilities, in which you support:

Operational Management

- o Overseeing the day-to-day running of the bar.
- o Ensuring guests receive great service.
- o Monitoring compliance with hygiene and safety standards.

Team Management

- o Hiring, training and supervising staff.
- o Creating schedules and resolving personnel issues.
- o Working to create a positive working atmosphere and team motivation.

Financial Management

- o Purchasing food, beverages and other supplies.
- o Managing budgets and costs, including pricing menu items.
- o Monitoring the profitability of the department.

Hospitality and Innovation

- o Actively brainstorming ways to improve the guest experience.
- o Developing new menus in collaboration with the chef.
- o Organizing events, theme nights or special promotions.

As an assistant F&B Manager, you support the F&B Manager in all these tasks, but you focus primarily on the daily operational work and direct management of the team. It is an ideal role to gain experience and grow into the position of F&B Manager.

What do we offer you?

- Working environment: Golflounge Amsterdam is a unique golf location. With our modern driving range, bar, targets and Trackman technology, we offer a combination of golf, fun and entertainment.
- Team: Together with a close-knit team, you work on the ultimate experience for our guests.
- Career opportunities: Show your talent and develop yourself within our organization. Who knows, you might not be an assistant anymore in no time!
- Salary: We offer a suitable salary of up to € 2,800 (based on 38 hours) per month - depending on your experience - with bonus options.
- Flexibility: We are not looking for a 9-5 mentality. That does not mean that we do not find a good work-life balance important, which is why your working hours are negotiable.
- Learn to play golf yourself: If you work on a golf course, it is nice to know something about the sport yourself. That is why all colleagues are also allowed to play golf at our location

What do we expect from you?

- You have an affinity with catering and hospitality (2+ years of work experience).
- You are a real team player and can handle different guests and situations well.
- You are stress-resistant and solution-oriented. You do not shy away from challenges.
- Experience in the catering industry is a plus.
- Your enthusiasm and eagerness to learn make the difference.
- You speak good English.

About Golflounge Amsterdam

Now that you know what we are looking for, we would like to tell you a little more about us.

Golflounge Amsterdam combines golf and entertainment. With a modern driving range with Trackman technology and targets, it is a perfect place for company outings, groups of friends and golfers who want to improve their game. Golf experience is not a requirement, which makes our location accessible to everyone and a fun way to get acquainted with the sport of golf.

Apply now!

Do you want to become part of our friendly team? Fill in your contact details (or email directly to management@dehogedijk.nl), let us know why you are our new assistant F&B Manager and we will contact you as soon as possible.